Course Requirements

Faithful class attendance and online participation. The learning objectives for this course depend on completing assignments, reading supporting material, attending class, and participating in the online discussion of what it means to be an evangelistic and missional church. See Course Policies for more details.

Reading Assessments

To prepare for class discussion you will be expected to read all assignments from the texts before the class sessions as well as any other distributed or assigned readings. You will need to complete all assigned and collateral reading (reading unassigned textbook chapters counts toward collateral reading pages).

Reading will be assessed by Class Reading Quizzes, Unit Reading Reflections and Book Reflection Paper.
(In-class) Reading Quizzes. Most class sessions will begin with a 10-minute quiz on the assigned reading. It will be a variety of objective questions including multiple-choice and short answer. You may use handwritten notes taken from the reading.

Unit Reflections (See Course Schedule for Due Dates). This 800-word Unit Reflections assignment pertains to what you think were the key items covered during the unit in the readings and class presentations, and how they might apply to your present or future education, life, or ministry. You will also respond to two questions based on the assigned reading.

This is a very important part of the learning experience each unit and should contain significant thinking on what you have learned. (It may help to cut and paste the following items into the body of your reflection paper). It might help to cut and paste the following questions into another document, and put your response below each question:

1. What is the most significant thing I learned during this unit?
2. How did what I learned change my thinking about this unit's topic(s)?
3. What previous experiences relate to what I read and learned?
4. How will I use (or have I used) this knowledge in my ministry or life?
5. What questions do I still have about this section's learning?

Reading Report: List author, book/article title, pages numbers for assigned and collateral reading during this unit.

To score well, the reflection must make reference to the assigned reading (including parenthetical references), will include suggested real-world examples and applications of the course material, and will include a plan for implementing the material in the student's personal and/or professional setting.

Hunter on Celtic Christianity Book Reflection Paper.

After reading a recommended book from the syllabus or bibliography of a textbook, the student will write a four-page (1000-word max) book reflection. Include the following parts Summary, Critique, and Application of this book into your personal and/or ministry experience. Be sure to cite the book throughout your reflection. Think of the reflection paper as a conversation between your life and the ideas encountered in the book. Three (3) points will be deducted for each error in spelling, grammar, and style (It helps to use spell check AND read it aloud before submitting it). Use proper MLA citation (MVNU Library home page has a link for further guidance on MLA citations). Include a Works Cited page if necessary.

Attach it as a Word document to the discussion board, name the file: ICS3012 Book Reflection YourFirstInitialLastName

You may use the following format:

Name:
ICS3012 – Spring 2012
Date:
Book Reflection—Title by Author

(1) Summary (100 words) -- What is this book about? What are some unique characteristics about the author? Why do you think the author wrote the book?

(2) Critique (600 words) – What does this book say specifically about the missions, mission structures, church movements and missionary practices? In what ways do you agree or disagree? How has the author defined missions and evangelism compared to other definitions you know? What does this book say specifically about the theory of intercultural missions? In what ways do you agree or disagree? What does this author say about the practice of mission life and work? What does this book say specifically about missions and evangelism in the life of the church? In what ways do you agree or disagree? How has the author helped you understand the missional task of the church?

(3) Application (300 words). In what ways has the author challenged your previous thinking about the history of missions especially as you seek to incorporate these ideas and practices into your personal life and your present or future role in the church? What are some connections between the course presentations, discussions and readings and what you’ve read from the author? How might you change your mind and possibly your life in response to what you’ve read?

Course Projects

(Point Value in Course Evaluation; Due dates in Course Schedule)

Missionary Biography Research Paper. This is an honest-to-goodness “old school” research project. It will be about 8-10 pages (2000 words). You will need to research an historical figure in the history of missions using four (4) library books, two (2) peer-reviewed articles, and two (2) websites and online resources (not including Wikipedia. You can start there for ideas, but cannot use it as a cited source).

- Describe this person’s life and work that gives a sense of their historical context: what makes this person stand out from (or above or away or into) what was happening in the church and world of his or her context.
- Why this person entered Christian ministry as a missionary: were they called?
- Think about what you can learn from this person about the theory and practice of mission: what did they do that was so important for the church and world?

Choose your top four choices from the provided list of historical personalities: “First come, first serve.”

Group Prezi on World Christian Movements. The class will be placed into groups with each one making two (2) presentations to the rest of the class. Each member of the group must work together by participating in research, organizing the presentation, as well as actively participating in the presentation. Each presentation must show integration of the topic with application to real-life experience. Prepare for a 15-minute presentation with a well-designed handout and questions for discussion for follow-up. It will be necessary to cite at least five (5) sources:

- Group Presentation 1: Assigned chapters 26 & 31
- Group Presentation 2: Assigned chapters 27 & 32
- Group Presentation 3: Assigned chapters 28 & 33
- Group Presentation 4: Assigned chapters 29 & 34
- Group Presentation 5: Assigned chapters 30 & 35

Final Project -- Historical Timeline of Christian Missions. Develop a historical timeline of the 15 most influential people or events (positive or negative) throughout the study of missions history. Annotate each submission highlighting their contribution to world evangelization. Each annotation should be 75 to 100 words in length. Finally, submit a 100 word minimum final paragraph answering the question: “How would you defend the idea that God uses historical figures and events to accomplish His mission in the world?”

Course Policies

This course involves a variety of real-life scenarios and engaging activities to challenge students with the realities of working in and with churches in contemporary contexts. Integration is fostered through personal reflection and praxis, and as such each student is responsible for their own learning. Students should expect to be engaged in self-motivated learning for a minimum of four hours per week during the semester. Note: Students are responsible for all Moodle and email communication sent for the course.

- Attendance and Participation: Regular attendance and participation is critical and expected. You will lose 50 points for every unexcused absence (5% of total grade) or three (3) tardies (arriving late, leaving early) and 25 points for every excused absence (2.5% of total grade). You have an attendance “buffer” of one day. Please inform the professor as quickly as possible about any anticipated or unanticipated absences.

  The MVNU policy on class attendance provides consideration (through the Academic Affairs Office) for four categories of excused absence: 1) assignments with official university organizations (e.g. sports teams) and pre-arranged trips; 2) emergencies or death in the immediate family; 3) legal responsibilities; or 4) extended illness when an authorized medical official requires confinement to home, room, or hospital.

- Integrity: MVNU promotes and adheres to the principle of unquestioned honesty among students, faculty, and staff, a standard that governs relationships and behavior in the classroom, residence halls, chapel, and other campus activities. As a Christian community, students and faculty have a moral and ethical responsibility to uphold this standard and refrain from any activity that would involve academic dishonesty or lack of personal integrity. (See the University Catalog for definitions and examples or violations of academic integrity.) Please be aware that all work submitted must be done on a personal and individual basis unless otherwise stipulated in the instructions. Plagiarism will result in a grade of “0” for that assignment and can result in failing the course.

- Format for papers: Submit files with the following title: Course Assignment Last Name First Initial (for instance: ICS3023 Research Project PriceM). Papers should be formatted with 1” margins, 12 pt. font – New Times Roman/Arial/Tahoma, double-spaced, numbered pages. The works cited page is not included in the suggested word count. There is no excuse for misspelled words, poor grammar and wrong punctuation. Avoid long paragraphs. Rarely is a paragraph a page or more long. For suggestions on good writing style, consult Strunk & White’s The Elements of Style. All written assignments must be typed using a standard MLA formatting for bibliography and citation of sources.

- Late Work: If you need more time on a project, I will listen carefully to understand your concerns. However, you must talk to me before the due date. Failure to receive an extension before the due date will result in a 10% reduction in points given for each class day after the due date, accumulating to 50%, unless arrangements are made in advance with the professor. Papers should be turned in to the instructor by the end of the class session on the day due. No assignments will be accepted after the final exam date. Plagiarism will result in a grade of “0” for that assignment and can result in failing the course.

- Disability statement: Students who qualify for and desire accommodations in this course due to a disability, as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, must follow the Disability Services Policies and Procedures as put forth by the office of Academic Support. A hard copy of the guidelines can be obtained at the Academic Support office or accessed in electronic form at the following web address: http://www.mvnu.edu/academics/services/dservices.html.
